BLACKBOARD ULTRA COURSE VIEW – ROLE ASSIGNMENTS – JEN STEWART, MPS

This purpose of this document is to identify approved role assignments within Blackboard Ultra Course Views. Roles are appointed by designated officials. Below is a list of course roles, and a description for each one.

Blackboard Role	Access Descriptions
Course Builder	Course Builders can add/remove course content and copy course content into existing courses. This role does not have access to the grade center and cannot enroll or remove users from the course. If the course is unavailable to students, a Course Builder can access the course.
Course Director/Instructor	Course Director/Instructor role has full access (develop, teach and facilitation duties) to the course. Course Director/Instructor can enroll and manage all course users (Instructor, Teaching Assistant, Facilitator, Course Builder, Guest and Tutor). If a course is unavailable to students, Course Directors/Instructors can access the course.
Facilitator	The Facilitator (usually Subject Matter Experts) has default privileges related to assist with the progression of a course. Grading, curriculum set up, and communications tasks can be managed by Facilitators. If the course is unavailable to students, a Facilitator can still access the course. This role cannot enroll or remove users from the course.
Grader	Graders can assist in the creation, management, delivery, and grading of assessments and surveys, and adding manual grade entries. The Grader cannot enroll or remove users from the course, add/remove course content/assignments, copy course content into existing courses. This role cannot make content available to students.

	The Grader role cannot enter the course until the course is available.
Student	Student is the default course user role. Student can submit coursework and participate in discussions. They cannot course items or access courses until they are available.
Teaching Assistant	Teaching Assistants mirror that of a Course Director/Instructor, including full access to the grade center. If the course is unavailable to students, teaching assistants may still access the course. Teaching Assistants can't remove a Course Director/Instructor from a course or enroll users.
Tutor	Tutor roles are assigned to approved Student Tutors. Tutors have "Student Default Settings" and are granted access to course content areas only. Course Directors/Instructors, SASSI and department leadership can approve Tutors.

*Note: Blackboard Roles cannot enroll or delete students from courses, this process is completed by Banner registration and Blackboard collaboration. Contact LMS Administrators for assistance with roster changes.
